ADDS TO FACILITY Farmer Under These Measures Has Same Advantage as Other Industries

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington.—The first milestone in the farmer's fight for the same facilities of finance as the manufacturer and promoter of industry enjoy has been reached. Three bills passed by the senate now will be put through the house in the next fortnight, and President Harding will pledge himself to those measures at the agricultural conference at the white house last Thanksgiving will sign them.

Broadly speaking, the effect of the farm credit legislation will be to reduce interest rates to the farmer. He has been paying seven and eight per cent and in some cases as high as ten per cent to get money while his more fortunate fellow citizens in the marts of urban demand have been getting money for generations at six per cent and less.

This discrimination has not been one of intent but accident. For the farmer has had no machinery of credit built up for him whereby capital be secured in an orderly fashion and under conditions that would appeal to investors.

Mr. Wallace estimated that even if interest rates to the farmer are reduced only one and one-half per cent it would mean the equivalent of a twenty per cent reduction in freight so far as comparative benefits to the farmer are concerned. He believes that commercial and manufacturing and financial communities everywhere should be enthusiastic for the farm legislation because it will tend to relieve the farmer of many of his troubles and enhance his productive and purchasing power.

"Other Man" in Love Triangle Plunges to Death After Battle

Mrs. Walter A. Weston.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago.—The cold hand of death, quickly and quietly eliminated the "other man" from the Windy City's latest love triangle to break into the public prints.

He had a rendezvous with Mrs. Walter A. Weston on the "L" station at Hoyne avenue. It also was a rendezvous with death, but long time credits the needs in the turn of his products. Both the Capper bill and the Strong bills should also have tremendous benefits.

Struggling "L" riders gathered about to watch the battle. Suddenly Krieger broke from Weston's grasp and through the thin ring of spectators. Down the narrow platform he ran.

When spectators reached the crumpled form it was lifeless.

Police took Weston and his wife for questioning.

A coroner's jury heard the story. Mrs. Weston said she had seen Krieger on the "L" platform to recover her diary. The working of fate was described as "accidental death" was the verdict.

Hirst Would Immediately Increase Building Program—Helps Counties.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison.—A graduated license fee based upon weight, outlined in a legislative highway bill to be brought before the joint highway committee of the legislature at its meeting Wednesday night, would produce $8,000,000 annually.

This in effect is an automobile weight survey, applied in such a way as to place the heaviest burden of highway cost on the owner of the heaviest car.

Division in Class.

According to tables prepared by Mr. Hirst, the 100 cars of the automobiles would go in the first weight class; 17.75 per cent would fall in the second class, and 17.75 per cent would be in the third class.

Personal property taxes on automobiles in Wisconsin would continue to be levied as in the past, under the committee bill. It is a less comprehensive proposal than that offered by the legislature.

Two Given Long Terms—Edgerton Woman Faints as Son Is Sentenced.

Eight youths from Janesville, Edgerton and Madison, were sentenced to long terms in the state reformatory at Green Bay. They were: Edwin Olson, 19, Porter township; and William Dallman, 19, Edgerton.

A dramatic twist came when Dallman's father, fainter after sentence had been pronounced on her son.

Olson's sentence was suspended and he was placed under the supervision of the state reformatory.

Assemblyman Seeks to Learn if Taxes Burden Badger Industry.

Madison.—As an outgrowth of the controversy between Governor Blaine and Z. G. Simmons of the Simmons Manufacturing company, Kenosha, over Wisconsin taxes, Assemblyman Thomas Duncan, Milwaukee, Tuesday, introduced a resolution into the lower house of the legislature requesting the tax commission to advise the state whether its revenue laws have unduly burdened industry.

"Claim is made the state has placed an unfair tax burden upon the manufacturing industries of this state," the resolution reads. "To determine this, the tax commission is directed to furnish the legislature information upon the amount of taxes which corporations have to pay in a number of representative Wisconsin cities, as compared with Michigan, Minnesota, New York and Massachusetts.

It is also directed to furnish information to show the effect the income tax has upon the progress of manufacturing in Wisconsin since enactment in 1911, and particularly whether this tax has driven industry out of the state, as disclosed by the United States census and other reliable sources of information."

Britain Is Urged to Accept

London.—France has notified Great Britain that the Ottoman delegation at Lausanne has agreed to sign all the peace terms.

Reuters' London, quoting a French source, says it is confirmed in well informed quarters that the Turks made Marquis Curzon proposals for a separate peace between Turkey and Great Britain. No official details are available.

The French decision to accept all the terms which they rejected Sunday was communicated to the French foreign office, and immediately forwarded to Downing street.

The French government urges Great Britain to accept the terms immediately in the interests of all the allies generally and of France herself in particular.

The French ambassador visited the British foreign office this afternoon for the government's answer.

Elkhorn—Sheriff Hal Wylie returned home Sunday morning from Elkhorn, Wis., where he had been on duty at Allen's Grove on a statutory charge. The sheriff reached Janesville Saturday night and telephoned to Deputy Wylie to come and get him with an automobile. The party left Janesville at 10 o'clock but when out on Rock Prairie, the radiator of the car froze up and they were forced to telephone to an Elkhorn garage to come and get them. It was morning before they reached Elkhorn.

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it is for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief. It keeps stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar, 1 cup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs, soothing and raising the phlegm, loosens and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and cough come to disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes, it cures disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. WHITEWATER

MISS ALICE MARSH,
Phone 33241.

Whitewater—The Federation of Women's clubs met in the Methodist church parlors Monday afternoon and voted $100 toward the salary of the school nurse, Miss Helen Wagner, from the health fund. Sup. A. R. Page addressed the meeting, his subject being "Whitewater's Schools, Past and Future," and his optimistic outlook regarding the possibility of a new high school building is cheering to all who have hoped for its realization for many years. Mr. Page believes that present accommodations will prove their adequacy and that conditions will create needs that will necessitate more room. Next June a class of 22 will be graduated and the new freshmen will more than fill the assembly room where there is but one vacant seat at this time. Five new students have recently been enrolled. A new school must be put on the entry building this year, and it and other expenses which the building must have, will cost between $8,000 and $7,000. That money should be invested in something permanent with modern conveniences, he said.

Elgin to Keep Pair of Holdups

"Elgin is going to hold on tight," say the local police in reference to the turning over by the authorities in that city of the two men who held up William Close and Oscar Engstrom here Jan. 1 and 2.

Arvin E. Price, chief of police in the Illinois city, writing to Chief Charles Newman, says several cities have asked for Albert Minsinger and Dolan Pepler, the two stick-up men who were arrested in Chicago.

"They were turned over to us for the reason that we have the best case against them," he says.

"They have been held to the grand jury in bonds of $20,000 each, so there appears to be little likelihood that they will obtain their freedom on bail."

"The cities of Kenosha, Janesville and seven Illinois cities have warrants for their arrest for holdups committed within their borders recently, but from every appearance," writes the Elgin official, "they will be put away for a long time here."

Bill Would Make Fire Trucks Obey All Traffic Laws

Janesville fire trucks would have to come to a stop before crossing Milwaukee street if a bill now before the state legislature should become a law. The bill calls upon fire departments to observe the traffic laws the same as other vehicles.

City Attorney Kiven of Milwaukee has called attention of the Milwaukee aldermen to the fallacy of such legislation and terms it highly impractical.

The most serious part of the law, said the Milwaukee city attorney, is that which makes firemen liable for accidents which may occur while making runs, as it is held that the city is not responsible for their acts.

CITY CLERK GETS SALARY INCREASE

Other Salaries Remain Unchanged—Interurban Claim Is Settled.

Providing a $300 increase for City Clerk J. D. Sartell, the 1923 salary ordinance was adopted by the council Monday night, the same as in former years despite the fact that the council form of government will be replaced April 17 by the managerial plan when new salaries doubtless will be fixed. Passage of the ordinance was urged by Mayor T. E. Welsh to counteract with the law and to prevent difficulties which might arise in case a manager is not appointed for several weeks after April 17 when the ordinance is effective.

Increasing the city clerk's salary from $2,100 to $2,400, practically the only change from last year's salary list, was upon motion of Ald. J. J. Shoridan. It was agreed that the clerk's salary should be definitely fixed at $2,400 instead of $1,200 as last year, with $300 additional for keeping the basement floors properly cleaned. The city clerk's salary was fixed at $3,600, the same as last year, except that he will receive the entire amount from the city instead of $3,000 and $600 additional from the water department. The city will in turn bill the water department for engineering services performed for it.

Settle With Interurban Co.
Settlement for $1,500, effected with the Rockford & Interurban company for material and labor furnished in paying between the rails on South Franklin street in 1921, was approved unanimously. The city's bill against the company was $1,975 while the interurban line had a claim against the city for $345.85, filed March 15, 1921. The company agreed to pay $1,500 in cash now to settle both claims.

"I think it is a good settlement," declared both Mayor T. E. Welsh and Ald. J. J. Shoridan.

The Janesville Traction company was given permission to lay a one-inch conduit across North Academy street near the Janesville Wholesale Grocery company building.

Zoning Ordinance Changed.
An ordinance changing the zoning plan commission, was given its first two readings and laid over until Feb. 10. The amendment would require a council permit for converting a business house into a factory, or from one use to another surrounding which there are more restrictions.

While this is not prohibited by the zoning ordinance, it was argued that a council permit should be necessary in such a case to protect property owners.

"This ordinance won't affect this Jackson street mortgage case," explained Mayor Welsh. "We're going to take care of that ourselves. It is only for future cases of a like nature."

Investigate Sewer Machine.
Upon motion of Ald. J. J. Dulin, the purchasing committee was instructed to get proposals from sewer cleaning machine companies in Milwaukee and Chicago for furnishing Janesville with an outfit, and to report back to the council in two weeks.

Putnam avenue railroad crossing was ordered partially graded with surplus material from the Eastern avenue sewer project, then Alderman Dulin's resolution.

City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham reported on the audit being made of the city's accounts, and on the railroad crossing requiring a new bridge by Sept. 1, 1923.

Rolls 1944 Count in Elks Tourney

Appleton—All records for brilliant bowling in Wisconsin Elks bowling tournament were shattered here Monday when W. Anderson, Kenosha, went into the lead in all events with 1,844 (588-655-583). His team, the Kenosha Elks, won the first place in five men with 2,904. Trolling with Zievers, also Kenosha, he took the lead in the doubles with 1,267.

GOLF CLUB HIRES NEW INSTRUCTOR

Brooks, Native of Scotland, Is Signed—Wisner New President.

Roy E. Wisner was elected to the presidency of the Janesville Country club, succeeding George E. King, and Douglas Brooks, a native of Scotland, was signed as a professional for the coming season by the board of directors Monday night, at the conclusion of the annual meeting of the stockholders. Brooks, who is a professional golfer, was elected vice president and B. J. Haumerson was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

The stockholders re-elected the following directors: George E. King, J. L. Wilcox and D. W. Holmes.

Mr. Brooks will succeed Dave Tosh as the club professional instructor. Mr. Brooks is a Scotchman, born in Dundee, Scotland, and is an undergraduate of Cambridge University. He is a pupil of George Duncan and followed his game as a boy on the Edinburgh links. He has won many championships, including the Royal St. George's, Sandwich, and saw three years' active service during the World War in the Royal Engineers, with Lieutenant's commission. Participating in the active service golf championship, he reached the finals, only to be beaten by Lord Charles Howe, the French champion.

For the past few months, Mr. Brooks has been conducting an indoor golf school in Madison. He attended the meeting here.

Following the report of the secretary, the directors to raise the dues to provide for additional revenue.

"This is the only social organization in Janesville in the summer and we want to make it as attractive as possible for all, but it costs money," said President King. "The Janesville club is probably the cheapest golf club in the world, for what they get."

It was the consensus of members that it was far better to have a slight increase in dues than to curtail any activities.

Operating income in 1922 totaled $7,688.15 as compared with $7,081.07 of the previous year, divided as follows: Dues, $6,300; lockers $234; link fees, $283; and sundries $180.

Operating expenses totaled $7,348, divided as follows: General expense, $1,071; house expense, $2,455; golf course, $4,022. Operating expense in 1921 was $6,739.

Total disbursements amounted to $9,000 with operating expense $7,348; shelter house, $335; land, $221; driveway, $474; caddy house, $482; tennis court, $9.81; unpaid dues, $222. Cash in hand Jan. 1, 1923, was $4,313.

At Winter Memorial.
The thanks of the club for the $100 sent by Charles Schaller for the establishment of a memorial to his brother, Albert Schaller, was extended. Suitable record was ordered spread on the minutes in regard to the irreparable loss suffered by the club the past year in the death of Al Schaller and Stanley D. Talmage, following the motion of David W. Holmes.

"I feel that we have lost two people we could not do without," said Mr. Holmes, speaking from years of close association with both men. "Before the days of the pro, Al Schaller taught most of the golf at the club, he was always one of the best players of the club and well known and liked throughout the state." Mr. Holmes, E. P. Wilcox and J. P. Baker were appointed to draw up the record.

The directors were instructed to look into the matter of installing a ventilator in the clubhouse.

Twenty stockholders attended the meeting.

If I Sold Hardware--

MOST hardware stores have repair departments. I would have one, too. Moreover, I would make it one of the big paying departments of my business.

Through Gazette Want Ads I would let people know that I repaired any number of things, from broken locks to lawn mowers. I would have boys come to me to repair bicycles, and I would have them repair vacuum cleaners, electric fans and vacuum cleaners. Men would want to repair furnaces, tools, guns, and all manner of things.

"They would get to depend on me, and in that way to depend on my store. There's nothing like making friends if you want to sell merchandise. I would make mine through Gazette Want Ads."

VACCINATION

There has been rebellion against vaccination for small pox in Utah and Texas and El Paso is threatened with being reported to the Federal government by Gen. Howze, if compulsory vaccination is not enforced. In the course of a hearing on the subject, Maj. W. Frech, army surgeon at the military hospital at Ft. Bliss, made this statement: "No absolute protection is claimed against small pox. Only mitigation is claimed, and we do not know how much."
That being the case would it not be well for all interests, pro and con, to get together and weigh the evidence carefully. We have an annual conflict over the question of vaccination—whether it infects or protects, with the American Medical Association on one side and many laymen, physicians of other schools, members of other groups and associations licensed to treat patients, and by still others who object without any reason. It would seem that there is too much stubbornness about the whole question of vaccination and a battle between schools of medical treatment is being fought out in public to its injury. Somewhere between these contentions lies the real truth and that is what the public is after.

No one has heard of Jack Dempsey offering to go over to Europe and settle any of the rows. He is just as reticent about it as he was in 1918.
Well met Ismet.

ADJUTANT GENERAL HOLWAY.

More than a state official who held his job with the necessary perfunctory attention to details and punctilious recognition of nice conventions, passed away when Orlando Holway died at Madison Saturday. We have been fortunate in adjutant generals in Wisconsin. But in the crisis which came upon us in 1918 and again in 1917, we were more than fortunate in having Orlando Holway at the helm and in command of the National Guard of the state. In the organization of the guard for service, first at Camp Douglas and afterward in the care given to the units while still within the purview of the state, though under Federal supervision and command, at Camp McArthur, he never overlooked an item for the comfort and assistance to the men in the Wisconsin contingents. His was not a red tape administration but one in which there entered the human factor.
Gen. Holway has been a guardsman for 36 years.
He was a living example of the falsehood of the enemies of orderly government, who standing with the lieutenant governor at their head, a few days ago in the capitol at Madison, asked that the guard of the state be done away with because "it is immoral." There are thousands of men—good citizens of Wisconsin—as good as the dead adjutant general of the state—who are refutations of this falsehood.

More bold and brazen each year comes the attack on the guard. It is said that the disbandment asked by a socialist member of the legislature is not on account of the cost but solely on the allegation that the troops of the state "breed immorality." What a pitiable position to take. By the same justification we should wipe out the cities because they breed immorality.

Against the assaults of the enemy of the guard, Gen. Holway stood firmly entrenched in the right.
He could see in the determination of the socialist minority to do away with the guard that it was but a step in the greater plan of destroying all such forces against the time when the Russian idea would be able to make the attack on the whole fabric of the government. Doing away with the Wisconsin guard is one of the steps in the Lenine propaganda which has taken root in the minds of the few here who hope for the day when we shall arise with a Soviet dictatorship instead of a republic.

There has always been need for men like Gen.
Holway.

Newspaper publication in Ireland has been slow of late because it takes so much time to write the epiphany.

With the establishment of the reforestation committee of senators and others at Washington who will study the question of adding to our forest area, we have started on a definite policy backed by the government for this work. According to one student of the field, writing in The Paper Mill, there are 85,000,000 acres of land actually worthless here in the United States and every acre could be made valuable if planted to forests. These denuded worthless acres are the

A VIRGINIA POTTERY PLANT

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Hopewell, Va.—This is an age of amazing and wonderful machinery. At the china industry is turning out cups, saucers, and sugar bowls by practically the same simple method that it used 50 years ago. The cheapest plate on your dinner table was made on a potter's wheel. The china in the 10-cent store and the ware in the finest shop both represent processes that are 95 percent handwork. In the face of science, invention, and standardized efficiency the potter has had the courage—and the strength—to remain a craftsman.

The reason is not hard to find. The pottery industry is tightly organized. A union and the union men will not use machinery. They know that machinery would throw perhaps nine out of ten of them out of work.

The pottery plant here recently installed an $8,- 000 labor saving machine. This contrivance would easily and rapidly make the clay containers in which dishes are stacked when they are to be dried in the kilns. But the men refused to touch the machine. They are craftsmen and artisans and prefer to remain thus rather than to become factory hands. The china industry pays well. Skilled workers draw from $5 to $20 a day.
They are satisfied with things as they are.

That china is made almost entirely by hand does not mean that one man makes each article.
In the pottery here the clay is handled 31 times before it is shipped out in the form of a finished dish. Every worker does his bit as swiftly and efficiently as if he were in a machine-run plant.
The only labor-saving machine in the plant is in the mixing room. Six different varieties of clay are brought here to be made into china.
One kind is from Florida, one from New Jersey and one from North Carolina. The other three kinds come from England. All except one, grayish variety are white and powdery. The six clays are taken from their separate bins and mixed and reduced to a liquid by machinery. The water is squeezed out, after which the clay is ready for the potter.

Even the plaster of Paris molds on which the pottery is shaped are formed by hand on a whirling wheel. Whole rooms are lined with shelves on which molds for plates and dishes of every description are stacked. These molds and the clay go to a room where potters are standing at wheels.
A mold is laid on a wheel and a flat cake of clay is thrown on that. The wheel revolves a few times, and under the skillful fingers of the operators, saucers come into existence. The plaster of Paris absorbs some of the moisture from the clay and in a few hours the saucer is entirely dry.

Jugs, sugar bowls, and cover dishes cannot be quickly shaped on a potter's wheel. To cast a jug, liquid clay is poured into a hollow mold. After a certain length of time a hard layer of clay has formed in the desired shape inside the mold.
The liquid left in the center is poured off and when the jug left in the mold is dry, the mold is taken off and the jug is cast.

Handles for pitchers and cups are made in a curious fashion. The mold for these pieces looks like a flat tile in which some one has traced with a finger a grooved line down the center and a series of ear-like figures attached to each side of it one above the other. Clay is poured into this design and allowed to harden. The result is a row of handles attached to each side of a central stick of clay. A man takes the handle off neatly and they are cemented on the cups with clay.

All of this pottery, fresh from the potter's wheel and from casting, looks like the material of which paper plates are made, except that it is a grayish white. The unfired dishes are about as brittle as short pie crust. A plate can be crushed between two fingers with the slightest pressure.

To gain the enduring quality of china this fragile ware must be baked in a kiln. The kilns are great brick ovens that rise above the low, one-story shops in cone-shaped towers. There are 15 kilns in this Virginia plant, and each of the big ones can hold 60,000 pieces at a time. The china cannot be packed loose in the oven. Thick clay containers, shaped like shallow wash boilers and known as saggers, are packed with the dishes and then stacked in the kiln. Men loading the kilns can be seen going from the loading trays to the ovens, each carrying a filled sagger in his arms and balancing one or two of the containers on his head.

After 48 hours, firing at about 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit, the ware is white and it has a slight ring when struck. It is no longer brittle, but it still looks rough like a paper plate. A glaze coating is applied, and the ware is fired again for 24 hours until it is hard and glossy.

In this second firing the kilns cannot be packed so tightly as in the first. The glaze would capsize the plates to stick together if they were laid one on top of another in the saggers. To prevent this, pots are fitted into little grooves in the sides of the saggers, and each dish rests on these pins so that it does not touch the dish below or above it.

From this fire the china goes into the only very noisy room in the plant. As you enter this room a shrill sound of dishes being scraped assaults your ears. The pins on which each plate rested have left little rough lumps on the china and girls in this room are vigorously scraping the roughness off with metal instruments.

The decorating processes which follow are particularly impressive because of the dexterous handwork involved. Although everyone in these shops works at a rapid rate the crafts shop atmosphere remains. There is a studio smell of turpentine, and paint about the decorating shops.
Some of the workers sit at tables handling brushes and paints, just as the maker of hand-painted china does, except that these workers' paint far more swiftly and with extreme precision.

Some mother-of-pearl luster was used for firing is on one table. It is a molten brown. The firing turns the point into the iridescent coating seen on the ware in the shop windows.

The lusters are applied with a brush. Color designs require a different method in a large plant.
At a long table a row of workers is decorating plates with bluebirds. One girl quickly applies a coat of some kind of varnish to a plate; the next sticks thin lines of blue, green, and red, and the finishing advantage of the good sleighing. Several changes in the Gazette have caused an announcement of reduction in rate and better handling of the paper circulation, as well as improvements in the news columns, much more telegraph news being used.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1883.—The snow blockade of the public highways throughout the country is being rapidly raised and farmers are again bringing their grain and produce to market and taking advantage of the good sleighing. Several changes in the Gazette have caused an announcement of reduction in rate and better handling of the paper circulation, as well as improvements
in the news columns, much more telegraph news
being used.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1893.—Dr. J. W. St. John has returned to Milsport and when his contract there expires, he will resume his practice in this city.
Churches are giving special sermons and aid for the Y. M. C. A., which needs a large fund to continue. A meeting of 150 young men was held at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and a strong sermon was delivered.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1903.—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jeffris entertained at their home, 201 S. Franklin street last night in honor of the faculty of Beloit college, of which Mr. Jeffris is an alumnus. The library building was the principal attraction, according to indications, and the board is making plans to move from the present cramped quarters in the Phoenix block.

TEN YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1913.—The Farmer Pan has hired a new store on the ground floor of the new low-worth building in New York. Miss Julia Lovejoy, this city, has been named corresponding secretary of the new harmony organization of the state suffragists. Janesville's new anti-smoke ordinance will go into effect in another week.

WISDOM FOR THE ASKING.

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally and without reproach; and it shall be given him.—James 1:5.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

KIRBY, THE FLOWER FRIEND.

Kirby loves roses and pansies and phlox.
Kirby loves poppies and asters and stocks,
And his daisies and his weeks are all wrapped up in bloom.
And scented and sweet with an orchard perfume.
The days may be dark and the snow coming down,
But Kirby brings blossoms of summer to town.

I trudged through the snow to my office today.
As heavy of heart as the low skies were gray:
Life was cheerless outside and was dreary within.
I was weary of winter—then Kirby dropped in.
Dropped just to tell of a new rose he'd found, And the snowdrops were petals of bloom on the ground.

I forgot it was winter, I ceased being glum.
I was out in my garden, for summer had come!
Outfitted with roses and pansies and phlox:
Planning a space for some new holly-hocks.
Putting in roses to grow with the old,
For no day with Kirby is dreary and cold.

The breath of the summer came in to us there.
The skies had turned blue and the garden was fair.
The trellis was heavy with blossoms of red.
The new rose already had bloomed in its bed:
And though past my window the snow hurried down,
Kirby and summer had slipped into town.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. HOUTON.

OUR OWN "ODDITIES IN THE NEWS"

Out in Detroit in one of the high schools it was learned that a fire-extinguisher was stolen almost every week. This was at first just a hoax and he was found to be a red-headed boy who used the fire-extinguisher for shampooing his fluffy hair.

It was so cold in a little town about twenty-five miles outside of Springfield, Mass., recently that crows froze tight into the fence on which they perched and the farmer had to come out the next morning and break them off.

Suburban man found several nuggets of gold in his coal, but he called up the dealer and raised an awful howl. He hadn't ordered substitutes.

Who's Who Today

ROBERT WOODS BLISS.

Robert Woods Bliss, recently named by President Harding to be minister to Sweden, resigns the post of third assistant secretary of State to take up his new duties. He will succeed Ira Nelson Morris, who recently resigned.

Bliss has a "qualifications" for his new post not only the experience gained in the state department since 1921 but years abroad in diplomatic service. Beginning as a young man he served as secretary to governor of Porto Rico. He later served his country as consul in Venice, ambassador secretary at Petrograd, then Brussels, Buenos Aires and Paris.

A native of St. Louis, Bliss is a Harvard graduate of 1900. He served in the office of Secretary of Porto Rico the year after graduation and was then appointed Secretary to the Governor of Porto Rico.
After competitive examination, he was appointed consul to Venice in 1903. A year later he became Second Secretary of Embassy at Petrograd. Afterward he held in succession the posts of Secretary of Embassy at Brussels, Secretary of Legation at Buenos Aires, Secretary and Counselor of Embassy at Paris and Charge d'Affaires at the Hague. In 1920 he was made chief of the division of Western European Affairs in the State Department. And in 1921, was appointed Third Assistant Secretary of State.

INCOME TAX FACTS

NO. 8.

A person may receive for his services compensation other than money that is subject to the income tax. The fair market value of the thing taken in payment is the amount to be included as income. For example, if a clerk in a grocery store receives as part of his wages groceries or provisions the value of the merchandise must be reported to him as income. Corporations paid to the owner of a corporation in shares of stock is to be treated as if the corporation sold the stock for its market value and paid him in cash.

Frontrunners received in payment for services and not merely as security for payment constitute income to the amount of their fair market value. A taxpayer receiving as compensation a note good for its face value at maturity, but not bearing interest, must include in income the time of receipt the fair discounted value of the note at such time. If the payments are not as they become due, there should be included as income in respect to each such payment so much thereof as represents recovery for the discount deducted.

Board and lodging when furnished as compensation for services must be reported as income.
Thus, a hotel clerk who is given a room and meals as part payment for his services, must report the fair value of such in his income tax return.

Under regulations of the Public Health Service officers are entitled to quarters, light, and heat, and employees such as janitors, custodians, and

Feb. 6, 1883.—The snow blockade of the public highways throughout the country is being
rapidly raised and farmers are again bringing
their grain and produce to market and taking advantage of the good sleighing. Several changes in the Gazette have caused an announcement of reduction in rate and better handling of the paper circulation, as well as improvements
in the news columns, much more telegraph news
being used.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1893.—Dr. J. W. St. John has returned to Milsport and when his contract there expires, he will resume his practice in this city.
Churches are giving special sermons and aid
for the Y. M. C. A., which needs a large fund to continue. A meeting of 150 young men was held at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and a strong sermon was delivered.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1903.—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jeffris entertained at their home, 201 S. Franklin street last night in honor of the faculty of Beloit college, of which Mr. Jeffris is an alumnus. The library building was the principal attraction, according to indications, and the board is making plans
to move from the present cramped quarters in the Phoenix block.

TEN YEARS AGO

Feb. 6, 1913.—The Farmer Pan has hired a new store on the ground floor of the new low-worth building in New York. Miss Julia Lovejoy, this city, has been named corresponding secretary of the new harmony organization of the state suffragists. Janesville's new anti-smoke ordinance will go into effect in another week.

A LITTLE MORE MUSTARD

Yesterday, as the reader may recall, we got some mustard "off our chest," as it were, by discussing the chest, the smartly differentiating the intelligent from the Salsbury school of nursing. I have a little more mustard today. I am going to put my foot down and not advocate bathing in public, but have always held that there is no great danger in getting the feet wet; if hot water and mustard are used to wet them with it as has been done even with the patient pastor standing by.

A hot mustard foot bath neither drives out the cold—any scientist will tell you there is no such thing as a cold nor does it bring out signs of amount of poison or waste matter from the system by way of the sweat.
The h. m. f. b. does good rather as an early or late remedial measure in any sort of respiratory infection such as croup, coryza, bronchitis, tonsillitis, pneumonia, or influenza, by equalizing the circulation, withdrawing blood from the throat or chest, say, and distributing it more evenly through the whole circulation, particularly the surface vessels.

Sweating induced by the h. m. f. b. is just a good indication that this little effort is being produced. The fact that it may do good, even though profuse sweating does not occur, provides the general skin surface growth flushed and warm. The popular belief that mustard cures poison or waste matter out of the system is not based on physiological fact but probably arises from the fact that the sweat which is retained by tropical clothing, tends to decompose and give rise to disagreeable odors. Bad odors have always been associated with poison or danger in the minds of uneducated persons, as witness the popular beliefs about disease arising from sewer gas, from decaying animal matter, and other malodorous substances. Mustard, as witness the dreadful dangers as odorous, as witness carbon monoxide gas and volunism and tasteless, as witness water polluted by typhoid and sometimes with its own odor, as witness the witness the polio boer who spits pneumonia in your face as he sneezes, laughs or talks with you when he has a "light cold." When you come down with it he tells you you must have taken your hat off at somebody's funeral or got your feet with going home from the movies. That is the

Q. How do turtles breathe? L. C. S.

A. They breathe through nostrils.
What under water they draw in the air and come to the surface for more air. When buried in mud they are dormant for the time being, not requiring air.

Q. What division did the 320th Com- pany of Infantry serve with? S. K. H.

A. It was the 8th division. Dividing the company infantry number by 4 will give the division number.

Q. Where was George Washington Roosevelt's Lloyd George? K. J.

A. Funk and Wagnalls have estimated that Roosevelt knew 126,000 words, while Lloyd George knows 100,000.

Q. For whom was Johns Hopkins named? W. N.

A. The Johns Hopkins Institution was named for the American financier and philanthropist, Johns Hopkins, who was born in Arundel county, Maryland, of Quaker parentage. Mr.
Hopkins made many gifts during his lifetime for the purpose of founding a university and hospital, and it was incorporated Aug. 24, 1877, before his death. In his will he bequeathed $700,000 for its support and development.

Q. How many Hebrew manuscripts are there of the Old Testament and Greek manuscripts of the New Testa- ment in existence? R. D. H.

A. The American Bible society says that it is quite impossible to keep track of the number of Hebrew manuscripts of the Old Testament or of the Greek manuscripts of the New Testament that are now available.
The term is rather indefinite. The three most important and most complete manuscripts of the Bible, of course, are the Sinaiticus, Alexandrian and the Vatican. But since first these were discovered in 1859 there have been numerous fragments brought to light and now there are about 2,000 such of the Hebrew and from 5,000 to 6,000 either of the Greek and Hebrew combined; so there are available about 8,000 more or less authentic fragments, manuscripts which are worthy of serious consideration. In a study of the original languages.

Q. Please give some information regarding Rabindranath Tagore.

A. E. B. Rabindranath Tagore was born in 1861 in Calcutta. He went to Barnet when 17 years of age to complete his education, after which he returned to India and became known as an educator and philosopher. He was for some time a member of the Bengal Legislative Council. His native language is Bengali.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1923

Janitor and Venus are again in benefic aspect today, according to astrology. Uranus is adverse.

Business affairs should be pushed this day, conjunction of Venus and Jupiter will be well placed, for they will be well placed.

The opening of new stores or the beginning of novel enterprises should be successful while this planetary arrangement has power to influence the affairs of humanity.

Constructive measures of every sort should be aided under this direction of the planets, which tends to reveal weaknesses in organizations and needs for reforms.

This should be an auspicious rule under which to make any appeal to the public and theaters especially should benefit.

Success for foreign plays and players predicted at the beginning of the season may be the forerunner of serious conditions and difficulties for actors and producers, the stars declare.

One of the sinister signs of the times will be a lack of understanding of new problems that are developing in the United States.

Again the passing of many oldtime leaders of public life is prognosticated. Numerous deaths among noted persons will mark the next few months.

Legacies and inheritances from distant relatives will be received in many families, owing to the passing of the aged and those who possess great wealth.

This should be a fairly lucky day for plighting the troth. Weddings are subject to influences making for prosperity and constancy.

Materialism is to reach its apex in this decade, astrologers foretell, and 1923 is to reveal the results of much sensuality in the public mind.

According to ancient lore this should be a lucky day under which to buy or to wear new clothing.

Persons whose birthdate it is should have rather a successful year, but they should beware of overpopulation or too much ambition inflicting money.

Children born on this day probably will be gifted in the arts. The stars and the planets indicate persons born under Aquarius and many gain great fame.

Fight Rats

They are one of the great enemies of mankind.
They carry pestilence and death wherever they go.
They breed so rapidly that a single pair of rats can in a few months produce a host of offspring.
At the end of three years will be the ancestors of more than 350, 000 rats.

The destruction caused by these pests amounts to more than the destruction of 25,000 men.
Fight this enemy of man scientifically. If you don't know how to do this, write to the Bureau of our Washington Information Bureau. You will be sent the free book "How to Fight Rats," which except two cents in stamps for re-information you need. Write your ad-

Summon Badger Student in Death of Railway Cop

Chicago—Joseph T. Delfosse, Jr., son of a wealthy druggist and a student of the University of Wis., was expected to appear before a coroner's jury Monday to explain the killing of Thomas Philbin, a special policeman for the Illinois Central railroad.

Philbin, father of five children, was crossing the street at Van Buren street and Michigan avenue when struck by an automobile driven by young Delfosse. The young man was taken in custody, but later released to appear at the inquest.

Another policeman who was with Philbin at the time of the accident, declared Delfosse was speeding. Delfosse denied this and his story is corroborated by a companion who was riding with him.

Debate on Prices

There is considerable speculation as to the prices which will be paid for the tobacco. The low grades, it has been announced at Madison, have been sold at prices ranging from five to 10 and 11 cents which is better than the average paid for the entire 1921 crop in Rock county. In the northern belt, a combination of buyers, it is reported, have offered sky-rocket prices for gas as high as 30 and 35 cents a pound.
